"ZIEG" GOES THROUGH

WELL KNOWN WRITER PASSENGER IN GAELIC

TELLS OF JIMMIE SIMS, TOM EVANS AND "VOLCANO" MARSHALL—THE SITUATION IN MANILA.

C. O. Ziegenfuss, one of the best known newspaper men of the Pacific Coast, who for a time was on the Honolulu Republican and lately has been editing a paper in Manila, yesterday for the Coast, his ultimate object point being New York.

Since leaving here, Mr. Ziegenfuss has had good success in the newspaper field of Manila and relates his experiences, some of which have been quite thrilling, with a great deal of glee.

On account of failing health, he has been compelled to leave Manila, having contracted tropical fever which has worked a great change in his personal appearance.

Business in Manila is reported to be good but hampered by the quarantine regulations made necessary by the epidemic of cholera now raging there. Steamers are held up for five days and inter-island communication is almost at a standstill.

Ziegenfuss reports on several Honoluluans as follows: J. M. Bing, who left here a couple of months ago, was given a good position on the American at $225 (Mexican) a month. Being a newcomer, however, Bing's luck did not stay with him long as he was taken with cholera and not expected to live on the 16th of July, the day Ziegenfuss left Manila.

Tom Evans, well known here, who made half a million dollars during the first occupancy of the islands by the Americans, is bankrupt, having been robbed by an associate of all his gains when he was out of the country.

"Volcano" Marshall, proof against cholera, bullets and the efforts of enemies, is still cheerful and employed on the staff of the Manila American.

Ziegenfuss asked regarding the establishment of an American newspaper in Shanghai, saying it was rumored in Manila that a paper would soon be started in China that would be up to date in every particular and backed by big capital.

While on the Mainland, Mr. Ziegenfuss will purchase a printing press and several typesetting machines and other machinery which goes to make up a first class newspaper and job printing establishment.

He expects to be back here in November when he will contain some two weeks' news of his adventures and looking after other business matters. While here yesterday he was the guest of Frederick O'Brien and D. G. Camarillo.

FAREWELL TO CONSUL

A farewell entertainment in honor of Consul and Mrs. Miki Saito was given last night by the Japanese colony at the Consulate last evening. It had been the intention of the colony to entertain at the Moana hotel but Consul Saito refused such a testimonial as he is to return in five months' time. There were at the entertainment last night fully 250 people, including all the leading business men of the colony, and their wives.

After the dinner Consul Saito expressed his gratification at the pleasant relations which had existed between himself and the business community. He asked for his netting consul, Mr. Okabe, the assistance of the men present, and expressed the pleasure he would experience on his return to Hawaii.

Mr. Shioda, manager of the Koshin bank presented the Consul and Mrs. Saito with a silver service on behalf of the business community and a number of handsome gifts to Mrs. Saito on behalf of the ladies. Mr. Imanishi of the Yokohama Specie Bank, proposed a toast to the health of the Consul and Mrs. Saito. Editor Soga of the Hawaii Shimpu, praised the work of the consul on behalf of the fire claimants and Prof. M. M. Scott made an address to Madame Saito which was responded to by the lady herself. Mr. Bigelow spoke of the friendly relations existing between the business men and the consul.

WANT POSSESSION

In the Circuit Court this morning J. O. Carter, as plaintiff vs. Kooloa Kalkinabale, administratrix of the estate of John W. Kalkinabale, deceased, as defendant, filed a petition to obtain possession of mortgaged premises under a foreclosure sale.

The petition sets forth that John W. Kalkinabale and his wife mortgaged certain premises to Samuel C. Allen in the sum of $2500, the said Kooloa Kalkinabale in this mortgage granting and releasing her interest by power in these premises to S. C. Allen.

The premises in question are situated near Kawaiahae cemetery. As default was made in the payment of the sum mentioned, the mortgage, in accordance with the conditions of the note, sold the place at public auction on August 8, this year to J. O. Carter for $3500.

The surplus of this sum was then tendered to Kooloa Kalkinabale but she refused to accept it or to surrender possession of the premises.

The petitioner therefore prays that a final order be given to remove the defendant and all persons claiming under her from the possession of the premises and that a writ of possession may be issued to the petitioner for the said premises.
